1964 Pontiac GTO Road Racer

Built by
HOT ROD CHASSIS
& CYCLE

Chicagoland's Hot Rod Chassis & Cycle has made a name for themselves internationally for building 1964 and older hot rods, customs, and race cars that stand out in the crowd. Owners Chad Hill and Kevin Tully, along with their talented crew, all have a passion for creating rolling works of art that not only have a unique look, but perform like a true hot rod should. Their builds have been featured in several national and international magazines, as well as the TV show Overhaulin', in which Kevin was a build team member. HRCC focuses on classic styling, vintage power, and modern safety and reliability. Their proprietary rear suspensions take up residence in some of the quickest door slammers in the country. And several of their builds are multiple award winners at various shows across the country.
